

Invitation to an Evening of Muslim-Christian Dialogue on Peacemaking

In this era of growing tensions between religious communities, there is a heightened need for understanding and personal relationships that build bridges. This event offers the opportunity to grow in mutual commitment to living well together even though there are significant differences of belief and practice among us. Local imams and Christian leaders will address three aspects of peacemaking. There will also be time for questions and answers and informal conversation at the end. The questions and persons to address them are listed below:

What did the founder of your religion teach and practice in regards to peacemaking?

Imam Muaz Redzic and Pastor Jonathan Bornman

Share one or two inspiring examples of peacemaking from your religious tradition.

Imam Shareef Sahibzada and Pastor Andres Prins

In what ways is (or could you see) your faith community trying to build peaceful relations with the rest of the inhabitants of Grand Rapids?

Imam Morsy Salem and Professor Douglas Kindschi

Come enjoy –and contribute to– an informative and peacebuilding evening!

Friday, February 13, 2015
Calvin Theological Seminary
3233 Burton Street SE
Grand Rapids, MI 49546

Time: 7:00 - 9:30 p.m.

Questions?
Contact
Greg Sinclair
gsinclair@crcna.org
(800) 730-3490

Salaam
PROJECT